PREMIUM PAYMENT INFORMATION

Your premium billing will be administered in accordance with the following requirements:

All premiums must be sent to ConnectiCare's premium remittance address according to rates in force and the number of members covered under this plan. All premiums are due and payable on the first of the month for which coverage is applicable and the first day of a calendar month thereafter. A grace period for payment, lasting until the end of the calendar month for which the premium is due, is allowed. Your payment must reach us in time for us to complete our posting process in order for it to be considered paid by the end of the grace period. Please allow 5-7 business days for premium payment to be received and processed.

Our bills reflect the membership changes for which we have been notified and processed at the rates in force for your coverage. Premium payment must be paid as billed, unless another payment method has been mutually agreed upon between you and ConnectiCare. Membership changes received and processed afterward will be reflected on the next bill.

ConnectiCare, Inc. & ConnectiCare Insurance Company, Inc. (Commercial group accounts):

If ConnectiCare does not receive and post your premium by the end of the grace period, your group's coverage will be terminated effective the last day of the grace period. You will not receive a payment reminder. If your group coverage is terminated, ConnectiCare reserves the right to either accept or deny reinstatement of your group's health insurance coverage. If reinstatement is accepted, you will be required to pay a reinstatement fee.

ConnectiCare of Massachusetts, Inc. (Commercial group accounts):

If ConnectiCare does not receive and post your premium by the end of the grace period, your group's coverage will be terminated no earlier than the 4th day and no later than the 6th day of the following month. Termination letters will be sent to you and to all subscribers enrolled in your plan which will include the exact date of termination. If your group is terminated, ConnectiCare reserves the right to either accept or deny reinstatement of your group's health insurance coverage. If reinstatement is accepted, you will be required to pay a reinstatement fee.

For employer groups only

Under Connecticut law, if an employee is terminated by their employer for any reason other than a layoff, or if the employee voluntarily terminates their own employment, the employer may decide not to pay the health insurance premium for the employee and their covered dependents, starting with the day that is 72 hours after the termination of employment. Credits for any refundable premium amounts will appear on your next premium statement that is processed after we receive your timely request. You must make your request for the premium credit by completing ConnectiCare's Premium Credit for Terminated Employees form. To obtain a copy of this form, please visit our website at connecticare.com/employer. ConnectiCare must receive this form within 72 hours of the employee's termination or you will not be eligible for the credit. When you request the credit, you will have to certify that the employee's termination falls within the legal requirements for receiving the credit.

Please note that it is your responsibility under the law to pay the former employee any part of the credited premium which they contributed for their coverage. Also note that you are not permitted under the law to request a credit where a collective bargaining agreement requires you to pay any premium.

Terminating coverage

Group coverage termination

If your group wishes to terminate its policy, you will need to provide written notification 30 days before the identified termination date. You must submit this signed notification on company letterhead with the signature of the authorized group representative and include the requested date for policy termination.

In addition, your group policy will terminate on the earliest day that any of the following events occur:

- At the end of the grace period, if the employer fails to make any premium payments that are due, or at another date after the grace period that we specify in writing
- If the company commits fraud or willfully conceals or misrepresents any material fact or circumstance in applying for coverage with ConnectiCare
- In the event the employer fails to comply with:
 - Service area requirements
 - Employer contribution requirements
 - Group participation rules
- In the event that we terminate coverage for all employers in accordance with applicable state law
- On the date the company is liquidated, ceases to operate, or no longer covers or employs any eligible employees
- On the date agreed upon by the company and ConnectiCare.

A group termination is effective on the last day of the month requested. Termination requests should be sent to your Account Manager.

Terminating coverage

Member-initiated termination

Employees or dependents may only terminate coverage during the annual open enrollment period, unless they have a qualifying event. Employees or dependents that want to terminate their coverage outside the annual open enrollment period must submit the request to their Human Resources Department in writing within 31 days of the event effecting coverage.

The employer must:

- Complete and sign an Enrollment/Change form, or
- Process employee terminations online at connecticare.com/employer, and
- Continue to offer ConnectiCare to its active employees.

These procedures must be used for all terminations, whether or not the employee/dependent is eligible for COBRA coverage (see following pages for more information about COBRA). If the employee decides to continue coverage, it will be reinstated to the date of termination once a Change form indicating election of continuation coverage is submitted. For Large Groups where ConnectiCare handles COBRA billing, we will reinstate coverage once we receive a COBRA election form. We produce the first COBRA invoice when the next COBRA billing cycle is scheduled, and we mail the invoice to the COBRA participant.

Membership terminations can be processed retroactively for up to 60 days, subject to ConnectiCare's approval.

Remember, it is your responsibility to make sure the employee gives you the appropriate documentation (as described).

Terminating coverage

Premium credit for terminated employees (For Connecticut Employer Groups only)

Under a Connecticut law effective October 1, 2009, if an employee is terminated by his/her employer for any reason other than a layoff, or if the employee voluntarily terminates his/her own employment, the employer may decide not to pay the health insurance premium for the employee and his/her covered dependents, starting with the day that is 72 hours after the termination of employment. Credits for any refundable premium amounts will appear on the next premium statement processed after we receive your request. You must make your request for the premium credit by completing ConnectiCare's Premium Credit for Terminated Employees form. To obtain a copy of this form, visit connecticare.com/employer/onlineforms.asp.

ConnectiCare must receive this form within 72 hours of the employee's termination or you will not be eligible for the credit. When you request the credit, you will have to certify that the employee's termination falls within the legal requirements for receiving the credit. It is your responsibility under the law to pay the former employee any part of the credited premium that they contributed for their coverage. You are not permitted under the law to request a credit where a collective bargaining agreement requires you to pay any premium beyond the date of termination.

COBRA continuation coverage

In accordance with the federal Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1985 and Connecticut and Massachusetts State law (referred to here as COBRA), subscribers and members have the right to continue coverage when it ends due to the occurrence of a qualifying event, such as a layoff; reduction in work hours or termination of employment; death; or divorce.

Subscriber and member coverage may continue for up to a certain number of months, depending on the type of qualifying event involved:

- For Connecticut fully-insured group plans, coverage may continue for up to 30 months when it ends due to the subscriber's reduction in work hours; leave of absence; or his/her employment is terminated for reasons other than gross misconduct.
- For Massachusetts group plans, coverage may continue for up to 18 months when it ends due to the subscriber's reduction in work hours; leave of absence; or his/her employment is terminated for reasons other than gross misconduct.

Terminations may not appear on your next bill if we do not receive the Enrollment/Change form before the end of the billing cycle. The termination will be reflected on the following bill.

- For a disabled person, coverage may continue from 18 to 29 months, as long as that person meets certain requirements. See the appropriate Membership Agreement, Certificate of Coverage or other plan document for more details.
- For both Connecticut and Massachusetts group plans, coverage may continue for up to 36 months for:
 - A covered child who is no longer an eligible dependent
 - A covered spouse and dependents if the subscriber dies
 - A covered spouse if the subscriber and spouse divorce or separate
 - A covered spouse and dependents if coverage ends when the subscriber becomes eligible for Medicare
- Subscribers or members enrolled in a Connecticut fully-insured group plan who lose group health coverage at age 62 or older and who are eligible to get Social Security benefits at the time of termination, may continue their group coverage until they are eligible for Medicare, instead of the usual COBRA continuation period.

Connecticut and Massachusetts state laws also mandate that COBRA rights and privileges apply to all employers covered by ConnectiCare, regardless of the employer size or whether the employer's plan is subject to ERISA or COBRA.

The employer is responsible for notifying members of their COBRA rights and administering the COBRA rules. Some employers have hired ConnectiCare to perform certain billing services for COBRA premiums (see "COBRA Billing"). You will find a more detailed discussion of COBRA rules and provisions in the Membership Agreement, Certificate of Coverage or other plan documents.

Exceptions:

- Continuation of group coverage with ConnectiCare is not available for employees or dependents who were not eligible for coverage or waived coverage on the employer's health plan.
- States may have additional continuation of coverage rules. Members should review their Membership Agreement or other plan documents for more details.

Terminating coverage

Employer's/Employer TPA's responsibilities:

- Bill and collect COBRA premium, unless ConnectiCare is hired for this function
- Send Change form or other notification to terminate an employee according to the terms of your policy (for example, at the end of the month or on the date of termination)
- Determine if plan is required to offer COBRA
- Determine member eligibility for extension or continuation of COBRA coverage
- Notify terminating members and any other eligible covered dependents of their right to continuation of coverage in accordance with the provisions of COBRA
- Determine duration of COBRA coverage
- Inform employees of COBRA eligibility due to company closure or bankruptcy
- Determine and/or advise of qualifying event(s) for employees, spouses and dependent children
- Notify us within 60 days when an eligible employee elects COBRA continuation coverage. The member will then have 45 more days to send payment
- Notify existing COBRA participants of plan and rate changes affecting their coverage
- Conduct any other duties or responsibilities assigned to the COBRA administrator
- Communicate COBRA election time frames to eligible subscriber/member

COBRA billing

Contact your Account Manager if your group would like ConnectiCare to handle billing members with COBRA continuation coverage. We will execute a Contract Administration Agreement that outlines our mutual responsibilities, and we will bill the member at 102% of the group rate.

Terminating coverage

ConnectiCare's responsibilities as COBRA Bill Administrator:

- Bill the COBRA participant for the initial and any retroactive premium
- Communicate premium payment time frames
- Monitor premium payment time frames
- Bill the COBRA participant for subsequent monthly premium
- Distribute late notices as applicable to COBRA participants
- Terminate COBRA participant for nonpayment
- Distribute a termination of COBRA coverage notice to the participant 60 days prior to COBRA expiration date
- Upon request, but no more than twice a year, provide employer group with a list of members on COBRA, complete with COBRA eligibility expiration dates.

Important

When electing COBRA continuation coverage, employees have 45 days from the date of the election to make the first payment of premium. The first payment must include payment for coverage as of the member's effective date of COBRA election. For example, if the election to continue coverage is made 60 days following the qualifying event and payment is made 45 days following the election, a total of three months premium must be paid on that date.

Managing the transition to Medicare

For employees nearing age 65

When an employee and/or dependent spouse reaches age 65, they may be eligible for a change in coverage. They will also need to determine their primary and secondary health insurer. Refer to your plan documents for details.

As an employer, it is your responsibility to educate your employees and their dependent spouses about Medicare benefits as they near 65. Medicare is the federal health insurance program for people who are 65 or older, as well as younger people with certain disabilities or end-stage renal disease. Your plan documents will provide some guidance on how to counsel your employees on their Medicare options.

Some of the areas you will need to review with your employees and/or their dependent spouses include:

- Eligibility requirements
- Application process
- How Medicare relates to your health plan

You should also review your responsibilities with your company's legal advisor.
