

For individuals under age 65 shopping for health insurance

Checklist for successful enrollment

Enrolling in health care coverage may be easier than you might think. But, it's best to be prepared. Have this information with you when you come in to talk about enrolling.

1 Family information

- Birth dates for all family members who need coverage
- Social Security numbers of each dependent listed on your tax return
- Citizenship or immigration status and (if these apply) certificates of naturalization or immigration document numbers
- List of current prescriptions taken by you or your family members who need coverage
- List of current doctors seen by you or your family members who need coverage

2 Income information

Proof of income:

- Recent paychecks (totaling one month with no date gaps) or profit-and-loss statement if you're self-employed
- OR, the first two pages of your most recent tax return

These help with estimating your annual modified adjusted gross income (MAGI) for your application.

3 Health insurance information

- Information about your employer and any health plans it offers
 - Employer address, name of the human resources contact, employee identification number, and health plan price
- Policy numbers of any current health insurance plans covering members of your household
- Your current health care insurance card

Do this before your appointment

Visit AccessHealthCT.com and reset your account password if you have coverage through Access Health CT, the Connecticut exchange, this year. Remember to bring your login and password information with you. This will save time.

If this is your first time seeking coverage through the exchange, we can help you set up an Access Health CT account during your appointment.

For ConnectiCare plans offered through Access Health CT, coverage is underwritten by ConnectiCare Benefits, Inc. only, not by Access Health CT.
